This Week's Message Given by Pastor Carl Kadolph

Food Boxes for Migrant Workers

So many people have been destroyed by the Hurricane's this year, leaving them homeless and with no hope. Please read what the Florida Baptist Convention is doing right here in Florida, for the Hurricane Wilma victims who already had so little.

Let's see what SonRise Community Church can do, through our own resources and through those we work or deal with, for these people in South Florida as well.

Food boxes to help migrant and agricultural families survive after Hurricane Wilma destroyed their livelihoods and homes are desperately needed in South Florida.

"All the crops from Immokalee to Belle Glade have been lost to Hurricane Wilma," said Brenda Forlines, director of the Florida Baptist Convention Church and Community Department, "So there will be no work for them for several months."

Churches are being asked to assemble food boxes that can be given to each family. Food boxes, rather than large quantities of commodities, are needed to help migrant pastors in their distribution, Forlines explained. "We don't have the manpower to handle commodity distributions."

Only the following items should be contained in the boxes:

- 2 cans of corn
- 1 bag (16 oz. or 24 oz.) black beans or pinto beans
- 1 five-pound bag or 2 two-pound bags of rice
- 1 jar (16 oz. or 24 oz) cooking oil
- 1 (5 lb.) bag of masecal (corn meal) for Spanish families OR
- 1 (5 lb.) bag of regular flour for Haitian families
- 2 cans tomato sauce
- 2 cans diced tomatoes
- 2 cans fruit
- 1 can fruit juice
- 2 cans meat (tuna, chicken, beef or ham)
- 1 (16 oz.) box of cereal
- 1 box dry milk
- 1 jar peanut butter
- 1 jar jelly
